

MR. JAMES POWERS OF BOSTON GLOBE SPEAKS TO LARGE AUDIENCE

Nationally Known Expert On International Affairs Looks at a Grim Tomorrow

Mr. James Powers, foreign editor of the Boston Globe, author of the book, "Years of Tumult", and a national expert on international affairs, spoke to a capacity house at Murkland auditorium, Wednesday evening, on the subject of "Our Bad Neighbors in Europe."

"We should avoid sentimentalizing foreign affairs," stated Mr. Powers. "I know that when I am through this address, at least one person in the audience will accuse me of being a communist. I am not a communist. I have no use for despots, with or without hirsute adornments."

And he went on to say, "We should avoid sentimentalizing foreign affairs. Foreign policies are directed now, not by morals, principles, or Christianity, but by self-interest. England today is only defending the interests of empirical England."

"Peace is not yet in sight. No major problem has been solved by the recent negotiations. War still goes on in Abyssinia, Palestine, Spain and China. This is because Europe today is divided into two camps, those who have already accomplished their empirical designs and those who have yet to do so. Britain, France, and Russia fall into the first category: they want to hold what they have; Japan, Italy and Germany fall within the second: they have yet to fulfill their aims, and they propose to take what they need. The satisfying of both these factions is quite a difficult problem."

World as Individuals Wants Peace

"People are the same everywhere. They want to be friendly with their neighbors; people as populations quarrel only when inspired to by propaganda from ruling forces. As a population therefore, Japan represents world conquest. If she wins in China, she will attempt the conquest of Asia, Australia, Europe, and in the end, America. Once Japan puts four hundred and sixty million Chinese to work, she will destroy our standards of living."

"Hitler, at Nuremberg spoke of the Holy Roman Empire, and reminded his audience that it had once been under Germanic control. He plans to reconstruct that empire. He has already made a good beginning, as he has cleared his two greatest obstacles, the Sudenten mountain range, and the alliance of France and England."

"Chamberlain is wrong when he demands on sea power to stop Germany. Adolf Hitler's new Empire will be self-sufficient and far inland, out of the reach of British naval guns. If Germany lasts six more months, the retreat of England and France will be fatal. An anti-British alliance between Russia and Germany is not inconceivable. And I deny that Adolf Hitler represents the fine Germany. He has no cultural excuse for living."

Last War Is Not Yet Over

"The World War is not yet over," Mr. Powers continued. "The allies thought they won the first part; Germany has won the second part and regained all that the allies took from her; and we may yet have to risk our lives in a third part."

"The last few years have been a period of international anarchy. The Spanish Civil war was planned in Rome in 1934. Pirate submarines terrorized the Mediterranean Sea, and Hitler advanced over prostrate Austria into Bohemia, and is now busy digging a grave for the remainder of Czechoslovakia. The fifty millions of dollars loaned to the Czechs by Britain to help them get on their feet will go into 'reparations' to Germany, and be-

ST. ANSELM'S MASCOT SECRETED IN DURHAM

The quiet of early morn was pierced last Monday by the anguished shriek of a hawk. Yes, you guessed it, the St. Anselm hawk, maous mascot of the Manchester school. Mysteriously secreted from its domicile over the week-end, the bird was transported to Durham and at present is recovering from an emergency operation performed by Deac Martin of local fame.

Although no definite confirmation has been made, it is well established that the deed of valor was committed by Phillip Dunlap (and company), prospective candidate for the office of mayor of Durham in the coming November elections. With grumblings of the coming campaign already underway, this action on the part of a prospective candidate should set that candidate well in the favor of local voters. The question now comes, will St. Anselm miss their noisy mascot?

FRATERNITIES HOLD OPEN HOUSE, SUNDAY

All the campus fraternities will hold "open house" Sunday, October 9, from 2 P. M. until 6 P. M. for the purpose of acquainting the freshmen with the house during the time when there is no intensive rushing. All the freshmen are invited to visit the houses in which they are interested at this time.

After Sunday no pledges may be entertained at the various houses except Saturdays and Sundays from 1:30 P.M. to 5:30 P.M. and Tuesdays from 4 P.M. to 8:30 P.M. The first pledging period will close November 17 at 7:30 P.M., and there will be a silent period from this time until 5 P.M., November 18.

The house president will extend bids to prospective pledgees before November 18, and on November 18, any man who has received an invitation from a fraternity may accept it by signing a pledge card and paying a pledge fee of $5.00.

All men who pledge during 1938-39 must become a member of his fraternity before October 15, 1939. Otherwise the man is automatically dropped from any affiliation with that fraternity and ineligible for replying by that or any other fraternity for a period of one year from October 15.

LENS AND SHUTTER CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The Lens and Shutter Club met Wednesday night with thirty members in attendance. All enjoyed an illustrated lecture by Russell Plumptre, on the subject of "Fundamentals of Picture Making." Other businesses included the discussion of plans for the coming year; several contests, trips, and photography exhibits are to be scheduled. The officers of the club are: Merrill Moore, President; James Batchelder, Vice-President; Russell Plumptre, Secretary-Treasurer.

ATHLETIC NEWS NOTICE

The New Hampshire Athletic News is publishing a special "Dads' Day" football program this week, which will be of interest and information of students and their Dads. It will contain the President's message to the Dads, the amusing football game between the Dads and the Profs, and other articles written to acquaint the Dads with your University. There also will be pictures of the players and articles on 1938 Fall Athletic Events.

University Makes Ready For Fifteenth Dads' Day

MARY SHIMER, WIFE OF PROFESSOR, DIES

Onetime Librarian Here, Was Daughter of Major Washburn of Portsmouth

Mrs. Mary Washburn Shimer, wife of Profesor Stanley R. Shimer of the chemistry department of the University, passed away Monday night at the Baker Memorial Hospital in Boston.

Mrs. Shimer was the daughter of the late Major I. H. Washburn, of the National Guard and one-time assistant post-master of the Portsmouth post office. She was graduated from Simmons College, was a member of the Durham Garden Club, Woman's Club, University Folk Club, The American Association of University Women and a Phi Mu sorority patroness and was reference librarian at Hamilton Smith Library until 1929.

Following a year's work in Paris, at the American Library there, she returned to the library here. She also was a member of the Manchester Library Art Department for a short time. In 1931 she married Mr. Shimer. Professor Shimer, Assistant Professor of Agricultural and Biological Chemistry and Chemist of the Experiment Station, was graduated from Muhlenberg College, 1918, and did graduate work at Penn. State, University of Illinois, and Cornell. He has been on the staff here since the fall of 1924.

Besides her mother and her husband, Mrs. Shimer is survived by a daughter, Virginia; an infant son, Stanley Washburn, and a sister, Miss Emily Washburn, a present member of the University library staff.

The funeral was held from the residence Thursday afternoon, with Rev. Fred S. Buschmeyer of Manchester, former pastor of the Durham Community Church, conducting services.

DADS' DAY DANCE IS HELD TOMORROW NITE

Tomorrow evening the annual Dads' Day dance will be held in the old gymnasium under the auspices of the Outing club. This affair, sponsored annually by this organization, will feature the music of Porter Kimball and his orchestra, and dancing will be from eight to eleven-thirty P. M. Mr. and Mrs. Tirrell and Mr. and Mrs. Clapp will act as chaperones for the affair. Tickets may be obtained from members of the club, or at the door.

PEP-CATS SCHEDULE RALLY AND BONFIRE

The Pep-Cats will stage a rally at the gymnasium on Friday night, at 7:30 P.M., the main feature of which will be a bonfire under the supervision of Al Lucier. After the bonfire, Coach Sauer and members of the team will speak in the gym. A dance will conclude the evening's activities. On Saturday afternoon, the Pep-Cats, wearing white sweaters, will meet in front of the Commons at two o'clock, and will follow the band to Lewis Fields, where they will occupy a special section in the bleachers. The freshmen will also march behind the band to the game, and to the rally.

At the last meeting, new officers were elected to replace those who have resigned. Betty Reilly was elected co-chairman, Gladys Zauluf, secretary and Phil Hodgson, treasurer. A request was made for cheer leaders and from the group there will be approximately six men and six women chosen. They are now under the supervision of Dick Nellson, and it is likely that they will participate in the cheer leading at the Maine game.

Before closing the meeting, a committee was chosen to revise the Pep-Cat constitution. Harry Parr was selected chairman with Phil Hodgson and Carline Brown as his assistants.

FLYING CLUB OPENS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The University of New Hampshire Flying Club is opening a membership drive for all students of the University who wish to use the Club glider and receive instruction in a Taylor Cub plane at reduced rates.

An open meeting will be held Wednesday, October 12, for all students interested in flying. This meeting will determine the rate required for instruction.

The Club's activities alone include free instruction on glider and week-end trips to Ogunquit beach where much gliding is done.

All old members are requested to be present at the meeting.

Varied Programs for Dads Includes Tours of Pettee Hall and New Field House

by Myron J. Rosen

Dad's coming.

Yes, Dad's coming — all the hundreds of him! By train, by auto, by any method, just as long as he gets here. For one day of the year, Dad is forgetting his office, his work, leaving his financial worries home, and is coming to Durham—perhaps to taste again for a few hours the spirit, the toil, and the fun he knew in college, perhaps to smile when he thinks of the innumerable educational opportunities his son or daughter is receiving that he never had; but at any rate, he is coming to enjoy himself, and our University is bound he shall do it in the most thorough fashion possible. From the very minute he arrives at the Faculty Club to the final good-byes, he is going to have so much fun he will look forward to another day when he can come again and, with several hundred other Dads, make the campus the festive scene it will present tomorrow.

Dad will register at the Faculty club, as in previous years, where he will receive his tickets to the dinner and football game. On his lapel he will proudly wear a tag bearing his name and home town, proclaiming him to be the father of a New Hampshire student, and, therefore, the guest of honor of the University. Then members of the faculty will take him in hand for the conducted tours of the classes and laboratories of all three colleges. Even if Dad was here last year, there is much he will never have seen before. Pettee Hall, with the departments of Military Science, agricultural engineering, and home economics will merit his attention for quite a while, as will the new Field House, one of the finest in the East.

At 11:10, Dad will see his son march with the others in military order as the R. O. T. C. unit drills on Memorial field, and soon after, he will join the crowd in the gym and shake hands steadily until noon with the president, the professors, and other Dads and their sons and daughters. President Engelhardt will also give an informal welcoming address at this time.

After Dad has eaten dinner, he will be all set for the final and biggest event of the day, the New Hampshire - Maine football game. Long before 2:30, the huge concrete stands at Lewis Fields will be overflowing with a colorful and eager crowd of Dads and students ready to risk laryngitis if it means cheering the Wildcats on up the field and over the goal line for a perfect ending to a perfect day. For four quarters, Dad may sadly forget his big business deal, and need only hold on to his hat to have a 'swell' time, for he will have no trouble getting into the spirit of the day—which, by the way, we hope will be as fine as the entertainment ahead of Dad when he arrives in Durham tomorrow morning.

RUSHING

Fraternity rushing as practiced on a college campus will be a totally new experience to most of the class of '42. Thus we feel that a few hints might be valuable in helping you to make a better choice. It is highly important that you choose the house most suited to your particular needs and temperament. It will be your home for the next three years and will have a profound effect upon your development and growth.

Be sure that you avail yourself of the opportunity to see all of the houses on Sunday afternoon. It will be impossible for you to see them all during the regular rushing period, and this will give you a chance to center your choice on five or six immediately.

Consult the lists of expenses which each house is required to file at the office of the Dean of Men. They are open to your inspection at any time. This will enable you to decide which ones you are able to afford.

Do not pledge a fraternity if you know that you will be unable to join. It is unfair to yourself and also to the fraternity, as each one is limited to a definite quota.

Do not permit any one house to monopolize your Tuesday night supper dates. Give yourself the opportunity to see several before limiting your choice to one or two. Acquaint yourself thoroughly with the rushing rules as set forth in the official information for students. You are as much to blame as a fraternity if you permit them to rush you illegally.

Beware of the house that has so little to offer it must seek to spread false charges against other houses. Such a house is hardly worth your consideration. The type of rushing which a house carries on is indicative of the type of men making it up.

WELCOME DADS

On behalf of the student body we wish to extend a most cordial welcome to all Dads.

Dad rarely gets much consideration except when bills are due or you want to borrow the family car. But on this day, he comes into his own. For a day at least he is head of the family and the center of attention. For once he is the guest and the treat is on his son or daughter.

Make the most of it Dads. The campus is yours and we are at your service.

RECENT EVENTS

by George Edson

When the famous Munich pact was agreed upon last week, few students of international affairs could agree with the trusting English Premier that the pact would ensure the peace of Europe. Few felt that Hitler was satisfied. Few felt that gaining the Sudentendand was the ultimate in German expansion. And those who felt with Chamberlain that he had succeeded in settling some of the problems of Europe, and that the pact would become the basis whereby other problems might be settled, were rudely awakened from their dream of security by events which point to a discard of peace in the very near future.

One of the results of the Munich "Peace" Pact was the modifying of the position of France in foreign affairs. From being the second largest empire in the world, France has been forced by this pact to the position of a second or even third rate power. She too has been offered upon the altar of peace by the English. Will the French people take this change in a quiet manner? Only time will tell.

President Benes of Czechoslovakia has been forced to resign by Hitler. Hitler's demand upon the Czechs for reparations for injuries done the Sudentens since 1918 is so impossible of accomplishment that Czechoslovakia will be practically forced out of existence. If there are those who believe that she can survive please remember that no one ever waxed fat on a diet of bread and water.

Poland, Hungary, and Jugoslavia have been drawn into the economic and political orbit of Germany. Bulgaria, Roumania and Greece are already making overtures of settlement with Hitler. And so, down the Danube goes Herr Hitler on his merry way, with nothing to stop him. This will in all probability be expansion by peaceful methods, using the threat of force only when necessary, which will not be often.

So Europe can be assured of peace or a truce until Hitler comes into contact with Russia, object of his expansion to the east. Will, and can Russia stop this madman who threatens the peace of the world? And, will England aid Hitler, as she is now doing, in his attempted conquest of the Ukraine? Again time alone can tell.

ATTENTION FACULTY

At the Liberal Arts faculty meeting on May 26, it was voted that a committee be appointed by the Dean to consider the recommendations of the Student Advisory Council relative to excusing students from final examinations.

This committee, undersigned, requests that each member of the faculty assist it by a written expression of opinion, and that this opinion state not only practice but also belief regarding this matter, if these two do not, for one reason or another, coincide.

Since Dean Jackson has requested that the report be submitted to the faculty as soon as possible, the committee hopes for your early cooperation. Please send your letter to P. S. Schoedinger, Murkland hall.

REV. HANGEN BETTER AFTER OPERATION

Rev. Emerson Hangen, pastor of the Durham Community Church, who was stricken with appendicitis on the evening of September 21, has been moved to his home on Newmarket Road. According to Mrs. Hangen, the pastor is doing very nicely and expects to again conduct the services at the Community Church on October 16.

Dr. Andrew G. Truxel of Dartmouth and Rev. Robert L. James, Jr., Christian Work advisor, have been preaching the Sunday sermons at the Community Church in Rev. Hangen's absence. Mr. James will preach this week.

CORRECTION

The corrected date for the performance of "The Mikado" is the 17th and 18th of November.

TO THE EDITOR

In a recent issue of the New Hampshire I noted the fact that the Carnegie Corporation had endowed this University with a large collection of valuable recordings and musical literature. Also, there appeared the news that Mrs. Philip Hale, wife of the great music critic, had given Mr. Hale's desk and chair, his bookcase and several of his books, to the University. The two collections are to be placed on the top floor of the library in a room being redecorated for that purpose.

Therefore, what could be more appropriate than that the room should be called the Philip Hale Music Room. It would be a worthy tribute to a great man, and it would link this music room with the Macdowell Foundation at Peterborough. Philip Hale, as you probably know, was a great friend and admirer of Macdowell. I feel sure that such a dedication would be appreciated not only by the students of the University but all the music lovers of New England.

LATE NEWS FLASH

Word has just been recently received by Professor J. R. Hepler that a hybrid eggplant with which he has worked in selective breeding for fifteen years, has been awarded high honors in the horticultural world, by a committee of judges in Harrisburg, Pa. This decision was reached by them after a study of reports from five widely separated regions of the United States, of the excellence of the eggplant as a crop.

This award is one given annually to the "best of its kind", vegetable or flower produced. The competition is between commerical enterprises as well as experiment stations, and it is a rare thing for a university experiment station to receive such honor. Last year the award went to a tomato type bred in Canada.

This is a news release for Saturday, October 8, and the Tuesday issue of "The New Hampshire" will carry fuller details.

MRS. CARROLL SPEAKS AT WOMEN'S CONVO

At the first women's convocation of the year, held in Murkland auditorium Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Gladys Hasty Carroll, famous novelist, read from her works. Mrs. Carroll read portions dealing with college life, from her well-known "As the Earth Turns" and from her more recent "Neighbor to the Sky."

Mrs. Carroll is no stranger to our campus. In 1934 she received an honorary Master of Arts degree from the University, and she was a member of the staff of the Writers' Conference held here last summer.

At a brief business meeting following Mrs. Carroll's talk, the Association voted for members of a social committee, one member to be chosen from each class.

1938 Wildcat Football Squad

N H

by Sumner Fellman

Another objective game rolls around tomorrow, when the Wildcats take on the University of Maine Bears, before the assembled dads at Lewis field. Maine is one team that New Hampshire always likes to beat, because of the fiery rivalry between the two schools in all sports. You will remember that our lads won down at Orono last year in an exciting game featured by a pass interception and touchdown by Fritz Rosinski. Last year, the Bears had a light fast team which used a razzle-dazzle system of play; it is reported that they have largely abandoned this style of attack, this year, because of the fact that the team is heavier and faster. 'Tis rumored that Dana Drew, a triple threat halfback, is the lad to watch tomorrow. Coach Fred Brice has hopes that this boy, who will be acting captain of the Maine team against New Hampshire, will be able to fill the passing shoes of Smith, who was graduated in June. Smith worried the Wildcats plenty last fall with his accurate heaves, and if Drew is anywhere near as capable, the New Hampshire pass defense will get a tough workout.

Predicting the result of this game is pretty risky. Maine was so far outclassed against N.Y.U. last Saturday, that one can't really get an idea of the strength of Brice's eleven. And then, it's hard to figure the weather. If the usual Dads' Day rain manifests itself, the light and speedy New Hampshire backfield, with its promising passing attack is going to have difficulty in getting started; on the other hand, a heavy team, such as Maine has, will gain an edge, in the event of a muddy field. Anyway, we'll venture out on the limb and predict that the Sauer-men will win by one touchdown, if weather conditions are favorable. What do you think?

Two more fall seasons get underway this week-end when the freshman and varsity cross country teams swing into action. The frosh play host to Concord high school this afternoon, while the varsity meets the Maine harriers, in conjunction with the football game, tomorrow afternoon. For about a week now, the hill and dalers have been covering the full meet course in their daily workouts, and the opening contests should find them fairly well prepared. Incidentally, these are the only home meets for the cross country men this fall, so you want to be sure to be on hand to watch them. Next week, both yearlings and varsity trek to Rhode Island, with the Harvard-Dartmouth meet looming up a week afterwards.

A glance at the football schedule offers plenty in the way of future worries. All of the teams which New Hampshire has yet to play are shaping up stronger every week. Colby, as was said before, appears to have the most powerful eleven in the recent history of the school. The Mules completely outclassed Tufts in the recent game between the two schools, in spite of the fact that the Jumbos also have their strongest club in years. Colby travels to Burlington for a game with Vermont, tomorrow, and that brings up another headache. The Catamounts up there in Burlington are snapping out of their football doldrums at last. Their last year's freshman team was something to talk about, and nine of the current Vermont first stringers were members of that star yearling team, which makes the future outlook at Burlington quite bright. Last Saturday, the Catamounts lost to Rutgers by a scant one point.

INTRAMURAL PROGRAM PLANNED FOR SEASON

The Physical Education Department, as part of its new program, is planning a highly organized intramural program. As forty per cent of the men on campus are not fraternity members, the schedule of games calls for contest between the dormitories and classes as well. The aim of the system as stated in the Intermural Program booklet reads, "To provide for students, who are not members of varsity or freshman athletic squads, the opportunity to enjoy educational, physical, social, and recreational values of competitive sports."

The games and equipment are looked after by competent managers and referees, while the supervision over the league's affairs will be handled by an elected Intermural Council. Anyone who has met regular eligibility requirements can play. No individual awards will be made, but a plaque honoring the winning house will be hung in the Field house.

All boys, no matter what their ability, are urged to come out and enjoy themselves.

A. S. C. E.

On Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Earl C. Hoover spoke to the American Society of Civil Engineers on the development of the Fish and Game department and explained the extensive biological survey of New Hampshire waters for a scientific stocking policy. Mr. Hoover, biologist of the New Hampshire Fish and Game Department, has recently been added to the zoology department teaching staff.

The A. S. C. E. plans to hold a number of such meetings during the year and all who are interested are cordially invited to attend. Notices of meetings will be posted on the bulletin board in Conant hall.

FORESTRY CLUB

A regular meeting of the University Forestry Club will be held on Thursday, October 13, in room 213 of Morrill hall. At this time a talking moving picture entitled "Men and Trees" will be shown. This picture has been borrowed from the Weyerhaeuser Sales Co. and is its first showing in this part of the country.

It is requested that all Club members be present as the regular business meeting will precede the movies.

TRACK NOTICE

All track men who are not out for cross country are urged to sign up for fall track so that they may get into condition for winter and spring track. The limited practice sessions preceeding the regular seasons makes it necessary for candidates to receive preliminary training if they are to be in suitable condition for the difficult schedule. Candidates may report to Coach Paul Sweet immediately, at the field house, and arrange for practice sessions at their own convenience. This applies to sprinters and field event candidates as well as distance men. While it is not compulsory to go out for fall track, this training has always proven very valuable and the men who take part in it will have an edge on other candidates when the regular seasons come around. Men who were on last year's track squads, both freshman and varsity, are especially urged to answer this call.

POWER'S LECTURE

comes an indirect British tribute to Adolf Hitler."

Mr. Powers advised reading Hitler's "Mein Kampf," and the book "I Knew Hitler," for a clear picture of the little master of Germany.

In closing his talk, Mr. Powers spoke very highly of the University of New Hampshire, remarking that during the last five years Boston has become increasingly aware of the University. He believes that eventually it will be the scholastic leader of eastern schools.

"BLOCKADE"

Produced by Walter Wanger and released through United Artists; Cast: Henry Fonda, Madeleine Carroll, Leo Carrillo, John Halliday.

You may have guessed that this picture is anti-war propaganda. Actually, it is anti-fascist propaganda. The possibilities that this experiment in pictures present is startling to the imagination.

Fonda is a man of the earth: a simple farmer who finds the world good to live in. He is stunned by the war which suddenly smashes the peace of his town . . .

Carroll, in the grip of a powerful spy ring, which sacrifices her father, also a spy, is forced to betray the starving people of Castelmare. She undergoes a change of heart after seeing the pathetic faces of the children, the tragic patience of a town waiting for the food ship; the town she has doomed to destruction . . .

The scenes of war-racked Spain are terribly real. The air raid, the shattered buildings, and debris-filled streets—they leave you with plenty to think about.

The picture ends on an off-key with a dramatic plea for peace, not only for Spain but for all the world.

In spite of the slight overacting of minor characters, the picture is top-rate and sincere in its message.

Best shot: Carroll and Fonda trapped in a bombed cellar.

A. A. U. W. MEETING

The first meeting of the American Association of University Women was held October 6th at Scott hall. Following the afternoon tea, Professor Thorsten Kalijarvi presented an interesting talk on "The Government of Mexico." Mr. Kalijarvi is professor of political science here at the University. He graduated from Clark University in 1920.

EXTENSION SERVICE PUBLISHES BULLETIN

First Publication of New Department Distributed to New Hampshire Towns

Copies of "The Problems of Taxation in New Hampshire", which is the first bulletin of the newly created General Extension service, have just been mailed to various town and state officials in New Hampshire and to those students and citizens who attended the First Institute of Public Affairs held here last July.

The new bulletin, which was edited by Thorsten V. Kalijarvi, head of the department of political science, contains twelve lectures on the subject of taxation delivered by six public officials, three professors, two business men and one lawyer before the institute. The meeting was held in anticipation of the coming tax vote in November. At next month's election two constitutional amendments—one for a state income tax, the other to restrict the use of gasoline and motor vehicle taxes to highway purposes—will be placed before the citizens of New Hampshire.

Besides these two issues, other topics discussed in the bulletin are sources of state revenue, assessment and evaluations, collections and delinquencies, conflicting taxes, the sales tax, and the attitudes of the various classes of people towards taxation.

In the foreword of President Engelhardt's address to the First Institute of Public Affairs, he said "To view the audience at this first session should have served as a tonic to those who might have been skeptical of the form of government in which we have faith. A roster of the names and occupations of those in attendance presents a cross section of the economic, social and cultural life of New Hampshire . . . The

DEAN OF MEN SPEAKS TO FAIRCHILD GROUP

Dean Alexander gave a talk Tuesday night at the first formal meeting of Fairchild hall. He discussed freshman plans for the future and said in closing that every freshman should take advantage of all social and extra-curricular activities that his studies permit, and thus derive all that University life offers him.

Prior to the talk by Dean Alexander, Raymond Doyle, the newly elected house president, called a business meeting to order, and Ernest Towers read the minutes of the last meeting. Richard Sugrue then gave his treasurer's report. The social committee announced its plans for Dads' Day, when a social get-together Saturday afternoon will be the high point. Mrs. Dame will be the hostess and will supervise the serving of cider and doughnuts.

DAD'S DAY

But rain or shine, we know Dad will be here in record numbers tomorrow, and everyone is ready to show him the best time ever; so that when Dad has reluctantly said goodbye—albeit in a voice a trifle hoarse from cheering—both sides concerned may sit back and say that this was indeed a most successful day.

problems before the institute were not solved, but everyone departed satisfied that certain issues were clearly delineated and assured that men could be friends and continue to respect one another and remain sincere in their differences."
